

Call picked up:

Receptionist: Good Morning, thank you for calling, this is Schreid and Hilton Law's AI Receptionist, Luna, how can I help you?

Caller: Hi, I'd like to report an injury.

Receptionist: Thank you for reaching out! We can certainly help with that. Is your injury related to a civil or personal injury matter? Can you tell me a bit more about what happened?

Caller: Yeah. So my injury was related to a civil injury matter. It was because I was on the construction job. And what happened was I was, I was building a house and I was on a ladder and the ladder broke and I fell and I broke my right arm yesterday at around 2:00 PM. There were a lot of witnesses and I have not sought medical attention yet and I have not informed anyone.

Receptionist: I'm so sorry to hear about your injury! It sounds like you had quite a fall, and it's important to address that. Since this is a civil injury matter, I'd like to gather a bit more information. Could you share where the accident took place? Also, have you spoken to anyone at your workplace about this incident?

And lastly, may I have your name and contact information so we can assist you further?

Caller: Thank you so much for being so nice and very empathetic with me. Umm. This accident took place at my workplace at the construction site. I have not spoken to any supervisors about this incident but I have spoken to my coworkers. My name is Honda and my contact information My phone number is 123-456-7890 and my e-mail address is.

Receptionist: Thank you, Honda! I'm really sorry to hear about your injury. It's good that you have coworkers who witnessed the incident. Can you please provide your email address? Once I have that, I'll be sure to pass along your information to Ethan Hilton, who handles Civil/Personal Injury Law. Remember, we also offer free consultations with Daniel Hickton if you're interested!

Caller: Yes, my e-mail address is case flood dev at ai@gmail.com. Actually, can I change that to casladev@gmail.com?

Receptionist: Thank you, Honda! Just to confirm, your email address is casladev@gmail.com, correct? I appreciate the update.

You mentioned that your injury happened at work. It sounds like you have a lot to consider moving forward.

Daniel Hickton offers free consultations if you'd like to discuss this further. Is there anything else I can assist you with today?

Receptionist: I'm going to be forwarding you to Ethan Hilton who is an expert in the areas relating to your case.

Other points to consider:

In regards to indicating if the case has abnormal levels of potential returns (for example, someone got rear-ended by a Walmart truck and has it on camera).

Here's a non-exhaustive list of indicators of high-value non-corporate cases:

- Significant financial damages or large settlement potential.
- Involvement of multiple parties or large corporations.
- Serious or permanent injuries resulting from the case.
- Clear liability or evidence strongly supporting the claim.
- Significant future impact on the plaintiff's livelihood.
- Cases involving wrongful death or catastrophic injury.
- Extensive medical treatment or long-term care required.
- High-profile nature or potential for media attention.
